

Biography

Assoc.Prof.Dr.habil.Dr.med.Claus Muss Ph.D.

- Prof. Muss is a researcher in clinical biochemistry and also a specialist in Nutritional Medicine.
- Graduation from the Medical School of Munich and Berlin/Germany with Doctorates in Medicine and Human Biology.
- Ph.D. in Preventive Medicine at the Department of Public Health St. Elisabeth University Bratislava
- Inauguration of the first European post graduate Program for Nutritional medicine at the Danube University Austria
- Habilitation in Preventive medicine (Public Health) at the Department of Public Health St. Elisabeth University Bratislava
- Associate Professor at the Department of Public Health St. Elisabeth University, Bratislava (EU) and UCSI University KL (My).
- Head of Department Preventive Medicine Hochschule für Naturheilverfahren in Baar (CH) in Cooperation with Steinbeis University Berlin (Germany)
- President of the International Research Group for Preventive Medicine (I-GAP) Vienna for higher education and research in the field of preventive medicine.
- Chairmen of the European Society for Stress medicine
- Coeditor of 7 international scientific Journals and over 68 Publications

